From The Desk of the Principal...

Dear Parishioners and Friends of ISJ,

I am very happy for the opportunity to write to you. I thank Fr. Dan for giving up his space so I can communicate once a month about Incarnation-St. James School. I want to share with you our strong Catholic Identity, our innovative programs and curriculum, our wonderful students and staff, and hopefully give you an inside look into our school. I will have to limit myself to one topic a month or else my letters will be longer than Fr. Dan's – is that possible?

Today's gospel message and image is one that speaks to Catholic educators all over the world. The Good Shepherd, as well as teachers, knows the value/worth/importance of their sheep/students. I think this is what Jesus means when he says that he knows his sheep. As a result of this 'knowing', the sheep understand the sacrificial nature of their shepherd. I am not sure all our students know the sacrifices teachers make each day, but they do know that the teachers and staff at ISJ love them, care about them, and want what is best for each of them.

At ISJ School, we are very proud of our Catholic Identity. In our desire to want the best for each of our students, we make sure that our school is firmly rooted in the teachings of the Catholic Church. The teachers and students attend mass every Friday, pray the Stations of the Cross during the Lenten Season, receive the sacrament of Reconciliation throughout the year, donate to the missions on a weekly basis, pray morning, lunch and afternoon prayers together each day, participate in the school May Procession, and perform numerous service activities during the year. Pope Benedict states that "education is integral to the mission of the Church...every Catholic educational institution is a place to encounter the living God."

He continues by saying that it is in our Catholic schools that we can help form the conscience in the young, which, enriched by faith, opens a sure path to inner peace and respect for others. At ISJ we firmly believe it is our mission to provide opportunities for our students to recognize the face of Jesus in all those they meet. We believe that our strong Catholic teachings, beliefs, rituals and devotions are the basis for nurturing our students to become strong and productive citizens in our society. Our goal is to educate young men and women who will carry on the message and work of the Gospel.

Please feel free to come and visit the school anytime. Our student ambassadors would love to give you a tour. You might also be interested in our school website www.isjschool.org We have podcasts and blogs posted for your enjoyment. Our May Crowning will be Friday, May 15 at 9:00am and we would love to have you join us! Please help us spread the good news about our school – recommend us to family and friends.

May you know the love of the Good Shepherd in life; accept the sacrifice of the Good Shepherd with joy and thankfulness; and trust in the Good Shepherd who waits to lead his sheep through the valleys of darkness so that we may dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

Sr. Patricia O'Donnell, IHM
Principal
