From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners and Friends of Our Parish,

"This is the day the Lord has made and we rejoice and we are glad!"

Now that the Labor Day weekend is behind us and schools on all levels are in full session (to the great delight of parents, I'm sure) and vacations are just a pleasant memory, a new year has begun in earnest for all of us. Our School students, faculty and staff are happy to be back and eager for all the challenges a new academic year will bring. We thank the parents, grandparents and guardians of our students for choosing our School for your children. Incarnation-St. James is a vital part of our Parish Family and contributes significantly to the educational environment of our local community. The Sainly fourth Bishop of Philadelphia, John Neumann rightly observed: "If you don't build schools for this generation, there will be no need to build churches for the next generation." No truer words were ever spoken. How many of our parishes began with the school first and the church located in the basement until a more fitting environment could be provided. My own Parish of St. Rose deLima in Chicopee, Massachusetts so began. Now it is the largest French-Canadian Parish in all of western Massachusetts. How important it is for every parish to nurture solid Catholic education. Its benefits are eternal.

Today in this morning's Holy Gospel according to St. Mark we hear Jesus asking his disciples who they think he is. The apostles tell Jesus people say he is John the Baptist, Elijah or one of the prophets. Christ again asks them "But who do you say that I am?" Peter, replies, "You are the Christ." Jesus then begins to prepare his disciples for his passion and death and for the necessity of accepting suffering in their own lives. Peter however does not want his Lord to suffer and asks Christ to stop this from happening. Jesus rebukes Peter telling him he is thinking not as God does, but as human beings do. The disciples are distressed at the thought of witnessing their messiah suffering, it all seems too much for them. Like the apostles we too must accept suffering in our lives. Our witness to the Cross of Christ is important enough to die for because it leads to the fullness of life. For Jesus tells us "whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it."

The exultation of the Cross consists in the fact that the event of the Cross and Resurrection abides and draws everything toward life. Whenever we freely take up the Cross we become part of this unending event. With the Cross we are freed from the restraint of the enemy and we clutch on to the strength of salvation. For salvation means escape from our own inability. At the same time we cannot produce or give any other fruit but the fruit we have taken from the tree of life. No wonder that the sign of the Cross makes kings of all those reborn in Jesus Christ. In the Cross is our life; in the Cross is our salvation.

I have often said that it is the Cross that keeps Christianity from becoming a fairy tale, a story that could begin "Once upon a time" with its story of Jesus' Birth on a star-swept Christmas Night with Angels singing Glory to God and a star leading Wise Men and Shepherds to the manger to worship the God-made-flesh. It is all very beautiful and lovely but it is not the end of the story. Throughout His life, Jesus would say of the Cross: "For this was I born, for this did I come into the world."

Every Sunday Gospel we read, every miracle, every word, every deed of Jesus was done under the sorrowful shadow of the Cross. And as we have heard in this morning's Gospel, Jesus invites us to take up our cross and to follow in the footsteps of the Master, for us as followers of Jesus the Cross is glory and power, for all our power is in the power of Christ who was crucified; all our sinfulness is mortified by the death of Christ on the Cross; and all our exaltation and all our glory are in the humility of God, Who humbled Himself to such an extent that He was pleased to die even between thieves.

The image of the Cross shows the reconciliation and friendship into which we have entered into with God. Jesus gives us our call to follow closely in His steps which lead us to the Cross but also to the eternal joy of Easter. Today, brothers and sisters, Jesus asks us to move out of our comfort zone into a distressful one, a place where we take up the cross of self-denial and self-sacrifice. Of course, it all depends on how you answer the question; who do you say that I am?

May the week ahead be filled with every grace and blessing. The school year is off to a fantastic start!

*In the love of Jesus and Our Lady,
Father Daniel, O.S.S.T.*

September 26, after the 9:00 a.m. Mass.

All women are welcome to come together with the vision of "Women Bringing Women Closer to God". We pray, share faith, explore interesting ideas and experience God through speakers and inspirational topics. Hope to see you soon. Sister Diane

What's Going on During Mass?

Ever ask yourself what's going on at Mass? Ever wonder what "that" is in the Church? Bored with Mass? Kids bored at Mass?

Maybe the antidote is to learn more about the Mass - what it's about, why we do what we do, why the Priest does what he does. Baseball, football, movies, and the Mass are all much more interesting if you know more about what's going on.

Join Father Dan and Deacon Frank Thursday evening, September 17th at 7PM in the Incarnation Parish Center. We'll have a slow motion walkthrough of the Mass with Q&A followed by a stroll to the church for a walkthrough of the worship space; it's a chance to look up close at things you've been wondering about.

Hope to see you there. Any questions? Contact Deacon Frank at Frank@IncarnationStJames.org or 609 538-8727 or Father Dan at the Rectory.
