Please pray for the repose of the soul of: Nicholas Matteo. May his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God rest in peace. Amen.

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners and Friends of ISJ,

"This is the day the Lord has made and we rejoice and we are glad."

Today, with the celebration of the Sunday Eucharist, we begin the Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time. I can't believe how fast this Church Year of Grace is speeding along. Before you know it, the School Year will begin and then it's a few weeks until the Season of Advent. I hope I'm not rushing things along here. The Gospel for this Sunday is taken from the Sixteenth Chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel and in it Jesus asks THE most important question of His public ministry: "Who do people say that I am?" And He chose the port city of Caesarea Philippi to ask this question. This city was heavily Roman with temples of gods and goddess everywhere. Most devout and pious Jews would never frequent this city. But Jesus always knew the right time and the right place for any significant moment in His life. He had been with the Apostles and disciples for a while and now wanted their opinion of Him. And to His question they come up with all kinds of answers. "Some say John the Baptist, other Elijah, still others Jeremiah or one of the prophets." Lots of answers but not the correct one. Leave it to Peter, bold and pig-headed Peter to give the one, the true answer: "You are the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of the Living God!"

With that profession of faith Jesus makes the Fisherman the Head of the Church. Peter can declare with certainty that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God, because of the way that his own life had changed since the first day that he met Jesus. The evidence for Peter's bold claim – his creed- is the fact that association with this man had brought about a transformation of everything in his life, especially those things most resistant to change – the ordinary circumstances of life. Only God, with His "unsearchable ways," could effect such a newness. The fact that Christ wants to use Peter as an instrument by which the Lord will open heaven to the world is surprising but not shocking. Just as Peter has come to recognize God through the humanity of the Man Jesus, God's method of self-communication will continue through the humanity of the Apostle Peter.

We met Peter a few weeks ago when he wanted to walk on the water just like Jesus and he did – for a while- then he began to sink like led to the bottom. Why? Because he took his eyes off of Jesus. Today his eyes are squarely on Jesus and He makes Peter the Head, the first Pope of the Church. Next Sunday, we get the end of the Gospel story and how Peter begins to rebuke Jesus at the thought of His approaching Passion and Death, and how Jesus predicts the same thing for all who would follow Him. But that's next week and if I write about that now I will have nothing for next Sunday! But in all seriousness, meditate often on this Gospel this week and make that profession of faith often in your heart: "You are the Christ, the Messiah, the Son of the living God!"

This week we have a Mother and a Son we celebrate as saints. On Wednesday we remember Saint Monica who was born of a Christian family in Tagaste in Africa in 331. While still a young girl she was married to Patricius. They had several children, among whom was Augustine. She poured forth many, many tears and prayers to God for his conversion. A model of the virtuous mother, Monica nourished the faith by her prayers and witnessed to it by her deeds. She died in Ostia in 387. When Monica approached the holy Bishop of Milan, later to be known as St. Ambrose, concerning her wayward son, he gave this heart-broken mother some of the best advice: "The son of so many tears will never be lost." How true the bishop's words would be! On Thursday, August the 28th we celebrate this "wayward son", St. Augustine who was born in Tagaste in Africa in 354. He was unsettled and restlessly searched for the truth until he was converted to the faith in Milan and baptized by St. Ambrose on Holy Saturday. Returning to his home, he embraced an ascetic life and subsequently was elected bishop of Hippo. For thirty-four years he guided his flock, instructing it with sermons and many writings. He fought bravely against the errors of his time and explained the faith carefully and cogently through his writings. Augustine died in 430. What an example of conversion and change St. Augustine gives to us. If you feel trapped by old habits and feel you can never change, never escape, pray to Saints Monica and Augustine. Their lives tell us that we can all have a second chance!

May the week ahead be filled with every joy and blessing. It does not seem possible that next week-end is Labor Day and then School begins for the 2008-09 academic year. Students enjoy what is left of summer and Parents, don't despair, soon it will be paradise! Once again thank you for generously giving of your time, treasure and talent for the good of our Parish and our School. May God continue to bless you always and in all ways.

*In the Love of Jesus,
Father Daniel, O.S.S.T.*

MOUNT CARMEL GUILD - FOOD PANTRY

Food for the Poor Critically Needed

The Mount Carmel Guild's Emergency Food Pantry experienced high volume during the month of July. We were able to help 700 households, about 100 more than a typical month. Many families experience greater food needs in summer with their children home from school. Even though we are greatly blessed by donations from your church, as we enter into the end of summer vacation, we ask for your continued support. Items in need include: cereal, pasta & sauce, peanut butter & jelly, pancake mix & syrup, tuna fish, canned fruits & vegetables, tea, juices, and cake mixes. We are grateful for whatever you can give. Thank you for always being there for those most in need.

Registered Dietitian Needed

Mount Carmel Guild of Trenton seeks a registered dietitian for its Comprehensive Nutritional Care program. Resumes and inquiries may be sent to Russell Hansel, Executive Director, at rhanselmcg@aol.com.
