From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners and Friends of our Parish,

"This is the day the Lord has made and we rejoice and we are glad in it."

Last Sunday, brothers and sisters, we learned that rejecting Mark's message of the coming of the reign of God is not the last word. Resolve to spread this message despite opposition leads to the belief in that opens the way for its coming. This Sunday we discover that successful witness itself is not the last word in ushering in the reign of God. We have seen before that Mark likes to make a point by surrounding one passage with two others that deal with the same topic. This has been called the "sandwich" technique. In today's Gospel, this technique reveals the culminating step in the life of any follower of the Lord Jesus by which they do their part in becoming a means through which God acts definitively. Today we hear the apostles report to Jesus "all they had done and taught." This refers to their casting out demons, preaching and curing people that we heard last week. In between these two passages from last week and this week, which form the "bread" of this Markan sandwich, is an account involving King Herod. When Herod hears about what Jesus and His disciples are doing, he equates it with the work of John the Baptist. Next we learn how Herod had John killed. This account Herod's actions, ending with the disciples of John coming and taking his body, juxtaposed with the next verse that begins with the apostles returning to Jesus from their mission, links the sufferings of the Baptist with what the apostles can expect. On the horizon of all effective striving for the reign of God is suffering, the final means through which the reign of God comes.

In today's Gospel Jesus has taken His Apostles off to a quiet place so they can "rest a while." But even "a deserted place" provides no getaway from the needs of the people who search them out. Jesus' response to them gives us an insight into what He was like. The Gospel tells us "His heart was moved with pity for them." The word in Greek for "moved with pity" has its roots in the word for "womb" or "loins", the innermost part of a person, where life begins.

What evokes this response is their being "like sheep without a shepherd." Sheep without a shepherd would be likely to wander off and get lost, vulnerable to being picked off by wolves, or just starve to death. The kings of Israel and Judah and the religious leaders were called to shepherd God's people. They were to govern, guide, and guard them. Often they did a poor job. Today we hear the Lord castigate these shepherds through the words of the prophet Jeremiah. God promises to appoint new shepherds.

The need for good shepherds continues in our day, for men and women who will care for the ones most vulnerable in our society. This is not just a matter for those in obvious positions of power, whether church or state, but for all those who have the capacity to reach out to any in physical need, to any searching for deeper meaning, to those looking for signs of the presence of God. We can pray that the Lord will send us shepherds who will shepherd the people "so that they need no longer fear and tremble; and none shall be missing." We can pray that God will send leaders of Church and State, on all levels, who will govern wisely.

This week we celebrate the Feast of St. Mary Magdalene on Wednesday. She was one of Christ's disciples and was present when He died. Early on the morning of the Resurrection, she was, according to Saint Mark's account, the first to see the Risen Lord. By the twelfth century particularly, devotion to the Magdalene was widespread in the Western Church. Over the long centuries of the Christian Church, Mary Magdalene went from the "Apostle to the Apostles" as the Greek Church venerates her to the prostitute whom Jesus saved from being stoned to death, to the woman who washed His feet and dried them with her hair, to now, thanks to Dan Brown, the wife of Jesus and the mother of His children! Are not the times we live in so wonderful?!!

Next Sunday, July the 26th, we celebrate the great Feast of the Mother of the Mother of God and the Grandmother of Jesus, Good Saint Ann. Even though the Feast falls on Sunday, we can still celebrate this feast of our Grandmother as a symbol and presence of God's great love and concern for us. There was nothing like your grandmother to comfort and care, right? At our Trinitarian Parish of St. Ann in Bristol, the Solemn Novena to Good St. Ann began yesterday (Saturday, July the 18th) and will be every night this week beginning at 7PM with Mass, homily and devotions following the Mass. I will be the guest preacher tonight (Sunday, July the 19th). Next Sunday the Feast itself there will be a Solemn Mass at 7PM with candlelight procession and veneration of the Relic of St. Ann. Try to make part or all of the Novena. For more information, please call the rectory at 215.788.2128. The Church is:

Saint Ann Church
357 Dorrance Street,
Bristol, PA. 19007

The Mother of the Mother of God is a powerful intercessor on our behalf, bring to Her all your needs and wants. May this week ahead be filled with the greatest of God's most special blessings. Let us pray for one another.

In the Love of Jesus and
Our Lady of Mt. Carmel,

PILGRIMAGE

TO THE SHRINE OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION
WASHINGTON, D.C. SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 2009

Bishop John Smith invites the clergy and the faithful of the Diocese of Trenton to journey with him to the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, on Saturday, September 19, 2009. A pilgrimage is a devotional act of faith that has been part of human religious experiences for centuries. The journey of a pilgrim symbolizes the spiritual journey of the disciple. We step out of our normal routine and allow the physical journey to stretch our souls as we journey into the mystery of God. We discover our own need for conversion as we draw near to the "Holy". Our coordinator is Claire Peer, 883-1111. Our Pilgrimage Theme will be: "A Pilgrimage of Hope."

Bus departs Incarnation parking lot at 7:30 a.m. returns home approximately 10:00 p.m. Cost per person is $45.00 and includes transportation and Smorgasbord at Cactus Willies Steak House in Maryland on return trip home
