Dear ISJ Family,

Rejoice in the Lord always. I shall say it again: rejoice! Your kindness should be known to all. The Lord is near. Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God. Then the peace of God that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus, (Philippians 4:4-7)

Anxiety seems to be the great problem of our age, both individually and collectively. Fortunes are made selling medications and providing therapies to help people overcome their fears, anxieties, phobias, and neuroses.

In the passage from the letter to the Philippians just cited, St. Paul says: be kind and cast your cares on the Lord, and God himself will act as the guardian of your mind and heart.

Remembering the nearness of God and the forgiveness that we have received through the Cross and His resurrection, trusting God in every circumstance of our lives, bearing the name of Jesus on our lips—these are the things that conquer anxiety and lead to peace and allow God himself to be the guardian of our hearts.

If ours is an age of anxiety, it is because it is an age in which Jesus is either not known or not believed. He may be talked about—dozens of books may be written about him and hours upon hours of television and radio programming may be devoted to him, but in practical terms, how Jesus lived and died, and what he taught about how to live and die, have negligible impact on the course of world events. Because Christians claim to believe in him, but don't believe him or take him at his word, the living Christ has become all but invisible to the world. Because Christians continue to try to be the guardians of their own existences, instead of being the extension in time and space of the body of the Crucified One, the God who wants to protect them has become unknown to the rest of humanity, which consequently continues to look for a savior and rescuer.

Life is full of problems of all sorts. Big problems and little problems are our minds' continuous preoccupation. Finding solutions to them tends to consume all our time, mind, and money. Likewise, the world has never lacked scores of people making all kinds of promises about things they want us to buy, or buy into, to solve these problems.

It is useful for us to think of the Church more as a movement than as an institution. Every movement has an anthem, a song to sing to inspire its followers and keep their hearts afloat in difficult times. Our movement, too, has an anthem, the anthem of our resistance to evil and death. It is an anthem so short, but so powerful, that it can be, and indeed is, repeated many, many times as we observe what Christ has done for us:

Christ is risen from the dead, trampling down death by death, And bestowing life to those who are in the tombs!

As we sing our anthem again and again this Easter season, let us be renewed in faith and in resistance to evil and death. As the forty days of Lent have begun, through repentance, our return to God, so may this season be a season of our conversion, our turning to God in trust, in confidence, and in deep, sincere belief. Indeed, Christ is risen, we shall nevermore be victims of corruption or slaves of death, and this is the truth.

May you receive this truth with conviction and hold it gratefully in your heart. May God himself guard our hearts and minds and preserve our souls and bodies in Christ Jesus, our Liberator, our Conqueror, and the One the world awaited. So let us rejoice. Again I say rejoice!

In the Risen Lord,
Fr. Santhosh George OSST

ST. ALPHEGE ARCHBISHOP and "the First Martyr of Canterbury." He was born in 953 and became a monk in the Deerhurst Monastery in Gloucester, England, asking after a few years to become a hermit. He received permission for this vocation and retired to a small hut near Somerset, England. In 984 Alphege assumed the role of abbot of the abbey of Bath, founded by St. Dunstan and by his own efforts. Many of his disciples from Somerset joined him at Bath. In that same year, Alphege succeeded Ethelwold as bishop of Winchester. He served there for two decades, famed for his care of the poor and for his own austere life.

King Aethelred the Unready used his abilities in 994, sending him to mediate with invading Danes. The Danish chieftain Anlaf converted to Christianity as a result of his meetings with Alphege, although he and the other chief, Swein, demanded tribute from the Anglo-Saxons of the region. Anlaf vowed never to lead his troops against Britain again. In 1005 Alphege became the successor to Aleric as the archbishop of Canterbury, receiving the pallium in Rome from Pope John XVIII. He returned to England in time to be captured by the Danes pillaging the southern regions. The Danes besieged Canterbury and took Alphege captive. The ransom for his release was about three thousand pounds and went unpaid. Alphege refused to give the Danes that much, an act which infuriated them. He was hit with an ax and then beaten to death. Revered as a martyr, Alphege's remains were placed in St. Paul's Church in London. The body, moved to Canterbury in 1023, was discovered to be incorrupt in 1105. Relics of St. Alphege are also in Bath, Glastonbury, Ramsey, Reading, Durham, Yorkminster and in Westminster Abbey. His emblem is an ax, and he is depicted in his pontifical vestments or as a shepherd defending his flock.

A Prayer for the World Meeting of Families Philadelphia 2015

God and Father of us all,
in Jesus, your Son and our Savior,
you have made us
your sons and daughters
in the family of the Church.

May your grace and love
help our families
in every part of the world
be united to one another in fidelity to the Gospel.

May the example of the Holy Family,
with the aid of your Holy Spirit,
guide all families,
especially those most troubled,
to be homes of communion and prayer
and to always seek your truth and live in your love.
Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Jesus, Mary and Joseph, pray for us!
