From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners and Friends of ISJ,

"O Sacrament most Holy, O Sacrament Divine, all praise and all thanksgiving be every moment thine!"

Today, brothers and sisters, we celebrate the great Solemnity of the Holy Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, the Feast of Corpus Christi. Since Holy Thursday is so near Good Friday, our joy over the institution of this wondrous Sacrament is not sufficiently expressed. Whenever possible, public homage is paid to Our Lord in this adorable Sacrament of the Altar.

The institution of the Eucharist is treated by Mark in a profound way that leads readers to realize the transformative power at work in them through the sacrifice of Christ. St. Mark presents the meal by which Christ shares His Body and Blood as a Passover meal. Passover is a celebration of God's liberation of the Exodus generation from Egypt and the oppressive hand of Pharaoh. The ceremony involved sprinkling the blood of a sacrificed lamb upon the door lintels of the homes of the Israelites and the eating of a lamb and unleavened bread. In the course of the meal, Jesus identifies the bread that they eat as His Body and the wine that they drink as His Blood. Thus, the meal presents a sharing in the life of Jesus that liberates His followers. The meal also presents Jesus as the One Who is sacrificing Himself in order that the disciples may share in His Divine Life. The words "blood of the covenant" are a reference to Moses throwing the blood of sacrificed young bulls on the altar and on the people to symbolize the covenant. The ancient Jews considered the life force to be in the blood. In the Exodus passage the people will declare three times in reference to the covenant, "we will do everything that the Lord has told us." Very soon, however, the wilderness generation will utterly break the covenant. Jesus' sacrifice of Himself is presented as an effective covenant because by it He Himself lives in His disciples. This sacrifice also alludes to the sacrifice of the suffering servant described in the book of the Prophet Isaiah. Jesus' Blood will be "shed for the many." The function of the servant's suffering in Isaiah is to "take away the sins of the many." Finally, the sacrifice of Jesus is surrounded by His prediction of betrayal, desertion by all the disciples, and the denial by Peter. The sacrifice of Jesus, however, will take away the offenses of the desertions and denials and enable the disciples to live fully by completely sharing in Jesus' sacrifice for others.

What a truly great and wonderful Feast the Church celebrates this holy day. I remember the wonderful processions that would take place at my parish Church of St. Rose de Lima in Chicopee, Massachusetts. Our Pastor would carry the Blessed Sacrament in a golden Monstrance around the block of the Church and all would process with him. Even the police directing traffic would kneel in the middle of the street as the Sacrament passed by. Today renew your fervor and love of Jesus in this most adorable Sacrament of the Altar. This afternoon I have been invited by Father Jeffrey Lee, the Pastor of Our Lady of the Angels (Immaculate Conception and St. Joachim) to preach at the 11AM Mass and participate in the Corpus Christi procession. I will carry all your intentions in my heart.

Today is also Flag Day when we honor the symbol of our Nation. How fortunate we are to live in this great Country and to enjoy the freedoms we sometimes take for granted. Let us offer special prayers today for our Country, for President Obama and his administration that they may always guide us in the path of peace and justice and that the current economic situation may be soon remedied. Many people have lost their jobs or are facing the prospect of doing so. We pray for them and for their families, commending them to the care and protection of Good St. Joseph.

Finally, the school year has come to a close. On Monday our Eighth Grade graduated in a very beautiful ceremony and now it's off to High School and the different experiences that will bring. We wish them well and promise to pray for them daily. Of course, we would be remiss if we, as a Parish, did not thank Sister Patricia, the Faculty and Staff for all of their hard work and dedication this past academic year. If our school is the fine institution it is it is because of their intense loyalty to the principles of Catholic education. We wish them a safe and enjoyable Summer.

Also we wish to thank Mrs. Carol Lake, our sixth grade teacher, for her many years of service to our School. Carol is retiring from Incarnation and we want her to know that she has left her handprint on our hearts forever. Carol, we love you and may you enjoy many, many years of retirement. You so richly deserve it!

May the week ahead be filled with every grace and blessing.

In the Love of Jesus,
Father Daniel, O.S.S.T.
