From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners and Friends of ISJ,

“This is the day the Lord has made and we rejoice and we are glad.”

This final Sunday in October, the Liturgy begins the Thirtieth Week in Ordinary Time. In one month, the current Church's Year of Grace will come to an end and a new year will begin with the First Sunday in Advent. It's amazing how fast time is going by. In today's Gospel, taken from the twenty-second chapter of St. Matthew we hear, once again, the leaders of the Jewish people, the Pharisees and the Sadducees, trying to confound Jesus. Again, they are not interested in the truth. All they are interested in is to gain the upper hand over Jesus. They ask Jesus what the greatest commandment is. Jesus responds with the great commandment: that we should love the Lord, our God, with all our heart, soul and mind, and that we should love our neighbors as ourselves.

As we saw in last Sunday's Gospel, love has two dimensions. Love, for it to be true, must have a vertical dimension (love of God) and a horizontal dimension (love of neighbor). One without the other is unbalanced and not true love. The First Reading of today's Liturgy also brings this out clearly. We sometimes think of the law of the Old Testament as a series of meticulous instructions that have little to do with life. This is not true. It was a precious gift from God for it communicated His will to us. Furthermore, the law was concerned with a spirit of compassion that should be shown to all, and especially to those who could not defend themselves.

The most obvious of the powerless were the widows and orphans. They had no one to defend them if those in power did not take this responsibility upon themselves. Aliens and the poor were also considered to be in need of our compassion. God asked the Israelites to remember when they were aliens in the land of Egypt. They were to treat others as they wished that they would have been treated. Likewise, when they lent money, they were not to make the stipulations of the loan humiliating. They were to treat the debtor with respect. Such powerful readings the Liturgy presents us with this late October Sunday.

This week in the Liturgy we have the Feasts of Saints Simon and Jude on Tuesday and the Solemnity of All Saints on Saturday. The name of Saint Simon usually appears eleventh in the list of the apostles. Nothing is known of him except that he was born in Cana and is surnamed “The Zealot.” Saint Jude, also called Thaddeus, was the apostle who asked the Lord at the Last Supper why He was going to manifest Himself only to his disciples and not to the whole world. He is called the “Saint of the Impossible.” Many of the faithful turn to St. Jude in desperate situations and have been helped. Of course, entertainer Danny Thomas made devotion to St. Jude such a hallmark of Catholic life. He built and funded the famous St. Jude Hospital for children with cancer. We often see the ads on T.V.

Always have recourse to this most powerful Saint, especially when life becomes burdensome. Next year, I hope to run a bus trip to the Shrine of St. Jude in Baltimore as well as our Trinitarian Monastery and the school first started by Mother Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton. More details will follow as plans are finalized.

Our week ends as a new month begins with the great Solemnity of All Saints. This year, because the Feast falls on Saturday, is NOT a Day of Obligation. It remains a Holy Day but NOT one of Obligation to attend Mass. On the First of November we remember those great Men and Women who love God deeply and without reserve and that is the essence of Sainthood. Where the Saints are now there we will be one day. Sainthood is the universal call and vocation of all of us. To become saints means to fulfill completely what we already are, raised to the dignity of God's adopted children in Christ.

The saints bring to light in creative fashion quite new human potentialities. The saints are themselves the living spaces into which one can turn. There is no isolation in heaven. It is the open society of the saints and, consequently, also the fulfillment of all human togetherness. Nothing can bring us into close contact with the beauty of Christ Himself other than the world of beauty created by faith and light that shines out from the faces of the saints, through whom His own light becomes visible. What a day Saturday is as we honor those who now live with God!

Next Sunday, we solemnly remember all our beloved dead, those who were near and dear to us in this life and now live with Jesus forever. Indeed, the entire month of November is one of remembrance of “those who have gone before us marked with the sign of faith.” More on this subject next Sunday in the Pastor's Letter.

As we conclude the month of October, the month of the Holy Rosary, let us commend ourselves and our whole lives to the Most Holy Mother of God. May Her Rosary be our safeguard both in the life and at the hour of our death. O Queen of the Most Holy Rosary pray for us now and in eternity.

*In the Love of Jesus and
our Blessed Lady,
Father Daniel, O.S.S.T.*

P.S. Please drop in the Prayer Garden of Incarnation Church and see the new Stations of the Cross. They are not quite finished but the Stations themselves are now in place. The solemn dedication of the Stations and the entire Prayer Garden will be Palm Sunday, April the 5th 2009 following the 11 AM Eucharist. Mark your calendars!

November Month of The Souls in Purgatory

ALL SOULS

The month of November is a special time for all of us to remember our dead...

PRAYER FOR THE DEAD

All-powerful God
who has made human beings
in your image and likeness,
and has forever engraved
our existence with your kindness-
you give life and you take it back.
We are like a flower in the field;
We blossom with the sun and water
and we are gone with the wind,
for human life is transient in this world.
You sow life in all the corners of the earth
and you call us unto your heavenly court.
We cry bitterly for our losses.
May the sacred memory
of the deceased be our light.
May our silent invocation, our tears,
our undying memory,
together with the faithful image of our dear one,
accompany us all our days.
O God, in your mercy answer us;
make it possible for our brothers and sisters who are not with us any more
to rest in the celestial peace.
May the memories of their lives stay with us;
may they be a constant blessing and an undying heritage.
All-powerful God, Lord of Life and Death,
turn our hearts toward those we love so much.
May their nostalgic and blessed memory
become an incentive to our deeds,
today and always.
Amen.

We remind you to return your ALL SOULS ENVELOPE as soon as possible as they will be placed on the Altar for the entire month of November and they will be remembered in a special way at the Novena of Masses to be offered for All Souls during the month of November.
